

RECORD DAY AT THE STATE FAIR

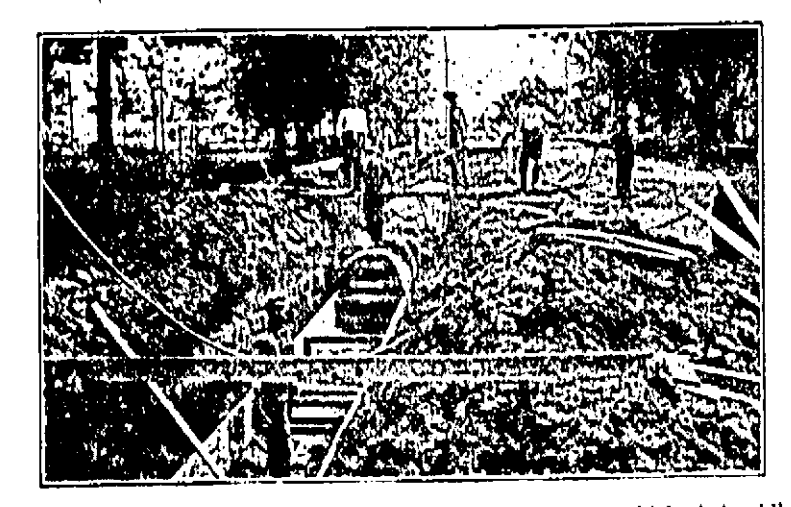

Appeal To Save Institution From A Deficit And Balmey Weather, Brought Out Nearly 80,000 People--W. H. Tripp Attends A Reunion Of Two Survivors.

NEWS OF THE DAY IN WISCONSIN

Secretary Of Railway Commission Gives Important Opinion--Another Terrible Suicide In Milwaukee--Waukesha Woman Marries Divorced Husband's Brother--New Normal Site Chosen.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 12.—All records for attendance at the Wisconsin State Fair were broken today. Milwaukee Day, 75,000 to 80,000 people being on the grounds. There has been a very generous response to the appeal of President Geo. McKorin and Secretary John M. Tripp to save the fair from financial failure. The weather here today is all that could be asked for. It is warm and the sun has been shining since early in the morning.
W. H. Tripp at Fair.
W. H. Tripp of Rock county, 87 years of age, and R. B. Wentworth of Portage, 81 years of age, the only surviving members of the assembly of 1857, attended the state fair yesterday and enjoyed an afternoon of sight-seeing and reminiscence of the days when Geo. McKorin's father presided over the convention which elected United States Senator David H. Walker and which they were members. Wynnan Spooner was speaker of the assembly and William C. Webb, clerk.
Mr. Wentworth enjoyed the distinction of having attended the first state fair ever held in Wisconsin, held in 1851 in Janesville. He put up the first printing press in Dodge county, beginning the publication of the Dodge County Gazette in 1852. Mr. Tripp has resided on a farm near Janesville for the last fifty-six years and has always taken an active part in politics. He made and presented President McKorin with the mahogany gavel with which the present state fair was officially opened Monday morning. One of his distinctions comes from being the owner of a solid mahogany sidewalk.
Mr. Tripp and Mr. Wentworth were members of the first republican legislature in the state, both being assemblymen.
M. C. Fish of Janesville was registered at the hospital yesterday. Janesville people at the hotel: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Davis, Miss Mary E. Davis, Otto Kelle, and Thomas Costigan.
Two Drakemen For Trains.
Madison, Wis., Sept. 12.—Passenger

Busy Days In Janesville.

In the accompanying cut is presented a view of the work now in progress of extending on Magnolia avenue the large storm sewer culvert at the intersection of that thoroughfare with Washington street. Eventually this sewer is to be carried to the Oak Hill avenue intersection. Magnolia avenue residents objected to having a torrent in which their children might easily be drowned rushing past their doorsteps after every storm and the protection of towns, under dark, also made the closing of the open sewer advisable. Former Alderman William Grove, John H. Watson, and others appear in the photograph.

SECRETARY TAFT'S MOTHER IS EIGHTY
Birthday Celebrated Yesterday—Callers Were Received for First Time Since Sickness.
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Worcester, Mass., Sept. 12.—Mrs. Louisa M. Taft, mother of Secretary Taft, was eighty years old yesterday and for the first time since she became ill in July, she sat up and received callers. Physicians expect she will soon recover completely.
Pacific Coast Fire Chiefs
Centerville, Wash., Sept. 12.—Members from five states were in attendance today at the opening of the annual convention of Fire Chiefs. The convention will be in session three days, during which there will be papers and discussions dealing with fire protection and fire fighting in all their phases.

Japan—I'll be three yen but I can guess what the august Sam is figuring about.

ARCHBISHOP KEENE IS SIXTY-EIGHT
Dubuque Churchman Is Celebrating Birthday Abroad—Was Born In Ireland.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Dubuque, Ia., Sept. 12.—Archbishop Keene of Dubuque, who is now in Europe, is sixty-eight years old today, and a message of congratulation was called to him by leading clergy and laymen of the archdiocese. The archbishop was born in Ireland and came to the United States when a boy. Prior to his appointment as archbishop of Dubuque in 1900 he was for some years bishop of Richmond, Va., and later served as rector of the Catholic university at Washington. His present province embraces the states of Iowa, Nebraska and Wyoming.
FOND DU LAC HAS THE CRACK COMPANY
Though Marked Second For General Qualities of Soldiers Marksmanship Record Was Exceptional.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., Sept. 12.—Fond du Lac has the "crack company" of the Wisconsin National guard, according to a decision announced by Adjutant General Boardman. The Fond du Lac company also won this honor last year, and for it were chosen to represent the state of Wisconsin in the military exhibition at the Jamestown exposition. The leading company was selected in the state in point of marksmanship for general qualities of soldiers, not made an exceptional record in marksmanship, winning the Plister trophy.
CONFLICTING VIEWS PUZZLE COMMISSION
Attorney General and Town Authorities Clash on Local Assessment, Review Law.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., Sept. 12.—The Wisconsin state tax commission is up against an embarrassing situation in the matter of its right of review of local assessments. The attorney general, F. L. Gilbert, has advised the commission that the statute of 1905, under which it reviews local assessments, is unconstitutional and void, and Attorney L. E. Laue of Superior, representing people in the town of Iron River, Bayfield county, is in the supreme court demanding that a writ of mandamus be issued to compel the tax commission to continue to operate in accordance with the legislative enactment which in the official opinion of the attorney general is of no value. The supreme court will take up the matter at its next sitting, Sept. 24. Then the validity of the law will be adjudicated.

JAPS WILL RESIST BEING DRIVEN OUT
Anonymous Letter to Mongolians in Bellingham, Wash., Results in Arming of Mikado's Subjects.
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Bellingham, Wash., Sept. 12.—An anonymous letter received here warns all Japanese and Chinese in the city to leave instantly. The Japanese who are working in the canneries have armed themselves and say they will resist any attempt to force them out of town. The Chinese will not make a strong stand.

EDWARD VANDERBILT MENTALLY UNSOUND
Wealthy Retired Merchant Who Wedded Spiritualist Medium Declared Incapable of Managing Affairs.
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
New York City, Sept. 12.—Edward W. Vanderbilt, the aged retired merchant of Brooklyn who married May S. Pepper, a spiritualist medium, is incapable of managing his affairs because of lunacy, according to a verdict returned by a sheriff's jury in Brooklyn, today.

MILK-REFORMERS MEET IN BRUSSELS
International Congress to Further Crusade Against "Sky-Blue Article" Begins Its Work.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Brussels, Sept. 12.—Several hundred scientists, medical experts and philanthropists are attending the second international milk congress in session here. Among those who took a prominent part in the opening proceedings today was Nathan Straus, the well-known New York philanthropist.
The object of the congress, as its name implies, is to abolish by law or otherwise the feeding of impure milk to young children. It is especially desired to bring about the enactment of laws in the various countries to compel the eradication of tubercular cattle from the dairy herd and to require the pasteurization of all milk that cannot be certified as free from germs of disease.

HOOSIERS PROBING EXPRESS COMPANIES
Indiana Railroad Commission Today Began Its Inquiry Into Methods, Rates, and So Forth.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 12.—The Indianapolis railroad commission today began its inquiry into the business of the express companies operating in this state. Representatives of the several companies have been summoned to appear before the commission and give testimony as to the methods, rates, capitalization, etc., of their companies.

SECRETARY TAFT IS OFF FOR THE PHILIPPINES
Steamship "Minnesota," Bound For Yokohama, Weighed Anchor At Seattle Today.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Seattle, Wash., Sept. 12.—Secretary Taft is now on route to the Philippines. The steamship Minnesota, upon which the secretary of war and his party are traveling, sailed from this port today for Yokohama. The steamer promises to break all records if her captain has his way and nothing prevents. Her machinery is in perfect condition and her bunkers filled with the choicest coal. The confident expectation is that the Minnesota will reach Yokohama on September 25 or before.
Secretary Taft is accompanied by Mrs. Taft, his son Charles, Brigadier General Clarence Edwards, chief of the insular bureau; Private Secretary Fred W. Carpenter, and George Long, a war office messenger.
At Yokohama the secretary and his party will disembark and spend eight days in Japan, including visits to Tokyo, Kobe, Nagasaki, and perhaps one or two other points. The party will sail from Nagasaki Oct. 4, for Shanghai, arriving there two days later, and, after a short stay, will go to Hongkong. At Hongkong the party will board the army transport McClellan on Oct. 11, and arrive at Manila on the fourteenth.
Secretary Taft has planned to spend twenty-two days in the Philippines, most of the time in Manila and vicinity, but a part of it devoted to inter-island visits.
He will leave Manila Nov. 4 on one of the naval cruisers, probably the Chattanooga, or a vessel of that type, for Vladivostok, the eastern terminus of the Trans-Siberian railroad. He is due to arrive at Irkutsk, the Siberian metropolis, Nov. 16. Irkutsk is the center of the Russo-Chinese trade, the capital of the governor-generalship for eastern Siberia, and has a population of 60,000. The schedule of the Trans-Siberian railroad allows only two hours at Irkutsk for changing trains, but arrangements have been made whereby if Mr. Taft wishes to stop off and see something of Siberia his car will be sidetracked and attached to the next train.
The journey across Siberia will be made in a special train de luxe which is considered superior to the Russian state trains. The train will be made up of a diner, observation car and three sleepers. Special provisions, including fruits and vegetables of all kinds will be put on board the train at different points, and everything possible will be done by the railroad management and the Russian officials to make Mr. Taft's trip through Siberia as pleasant and interesting as possible.
From Irkutsk the party will proceed almost without stop to Moscow, a distance of 3,385 miles. Moscow will be reached Nov. 23, and two days will be spent there. Three days later the party will reach St. Petersburg, where another stop of two days will be made to give Mr. Taft an opportunity to meet the czar. From St. Petersburg the party will proceed to Berlin. The German capital will be reached Nov. 29, and secretary Taft will spend two days there. The present plan is for the party to take a steamer for New York, at Bremen, Hamburg or Cherbourg, according to the best connections that can be made, which should bring the party to New York about the middle of December.
There was a gala crowd at the dock today in honor of Secretary Taft's leaving-taking. Many people gathered at the pier to give the secretary and his party an enthusiastic adieu. All the shipping in the harbor displayed their flags, and the picture presented was the big liner slowly drew away as the big liner slowly drew away was the picture presented. When the cheers of the crowd reached Secretary Taft's ears and he witnessed the ovation he and his party were receiving he smiled and raised his hat.

SECRETARY TAFT IS OFF FOR THE PHILIPPINES

Steamship "Minnesota," Bound For Yokohama, Weighed Anchor At Seattle Today.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Seattle, Wash., Sept. 12.—Secretary Taft is now on route to the Philippines. The steamship Minnesota, upon which the secretary of war and his party are traveling, sailed from this port today for Yokohama. The steamer promises to break all records if her captain has his way and nothing prevents. Her machinery is in perfect condition and her bunkers filled with the choicest coal. The confident expectation is that the Minnesota will reach Yokohama on September 25 or before.
Secretary Taft is accompanied by Mrs. Taft, his son Charles, Brigadier General Clarence Edwards, chief of the insular bureau; Private Secretary Fred W. Carpenter, and George Long, a war office messenger.
At Yokohama the secretary and his party will disembark and spend eight days in Japan, including visits to Tokyo, Kobe, Nagasaki, and perhaps one or two other points. The party will sail from Nagasaki Oct. 4, for Shanghai, arriving there two days later, and, after a short stay, will go to Hongkong. At Hongkong the party will board the army transport McClellan on Oct. 11, and arrive at Manila on the fourteenth.
Secretary Taft has planned to spend twenty-two days in the Philippines, most of the time in Manila and vicinity, but a part of it devoted to inter-island visits.
He will leave Manila Nov. 4 on one of the naval cruisers, probably the Chattanooga, or a vessel of that type, for Vladivostok, the eastern terminus of the Trans-Siberian railroad. He is due to arrive at Irkutsk, the Siberian metropolis, Nov. 16. Irkutsk is the center of the Russo-Chinese trade, the capital of the governor-generalship for eastern Siberia, and has a population of 60,000. The schedule of the Trans-Siberian railroad allows only two hours at Irkutsk for changing trains, but arrangements have been made whereby if Mr. Taft wishes to stop off and see something of Siberia his car will be sidetracked and attached to the next train.
The journey across Siberia will be made in a special train de luxe which is considered superior to the Russian state trains. The train will be made up of a diner, observation car and three sleepers. Special provisions, including fruits and vegetables of all kinds will be put on board the train at different points, and everything possible will be done by the railroad management and the Russian officials to make Mr. Taft's trip through Siberia as pleasant and interesting as possible.
From Irkutsk the party will proceed almost without stop to Moscow, a distance of 3,385 miles. Moscow will be reached Nov. 23, and two days will be spent there. Three days later the party will reach St. Petersburg, where another stop of two days will be made to give Mr. Taft an opportunity to meet the czar. From St. Petersburg the party will proceed to Berlin. The German capital will be reached Nov. 29, and secretary Taft will spend two days there. The present plan is for the party to take a steamer for New York, at Bremen, Hamburg or Cherbourg, according to the best connections that can be made, which should bring the party to New York about the middle of December.
There was a gala crowd at the dock today in honor of Secretary Taft's leaving-taking. Many people gathered at the pier to give the secretary and his party an enthusiastic adieu. All the shipping in the harbor displayed their flags, and the picture presented was the big liner slowly drew away as the big liner slowly drew away was the picture presented. When the cheers of the crowd reached Secretary Taft's ears and he witnessed the ovation he and his party were receiving he smiled and raised his hat.

VETERANS HEAR ADDRESS BY COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF

Business Session Of National Encampment Being Brought To End--Many Reunions.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Saratoga, N. Y., Sept. 12.—This was the day for business at the annual G. A. R. encampment and the meetings of the auxiliary organizations. The continuous round of pleasure that the veterans and other visitors have enjoyed since their arrival in Saratoga way to a season of work, and before the close of the day the greater part of the routine business will be disposed of.
In Convention hall at 10 o'clock this morning the forty-first encampment of the Grand Army was called to order by the retiring commander-in-chief, R. S. Brown of Ohio. The opening hour was devoted to addresses by representatives of the state of New York, the village of Saratoga and the local veterans, with appropriate responses by several of the prominent visitors. As soon as the exchange of greetings was over the encampment went into executive session to hear the address of the commander-in-chief and the annual reports of the other officers. The report of the adjutant-general showed that the veterans are rapidly passing away, the percentage of loss in the membership during the past twelve months having been greater than during any other similar period since the organization of the Grand Army.
In the first A. E. church this morning the Woman's Relief Corps began its twenty-fifth national convention, the sessions of which will continue through tomorrow. A large number of resolutions are to be presented to the convention and the session postponed to Saturday night. But many of the veterans will leave Saratoga tomorrow, many of those from the south and west having arranged for visits to New York city, Niagara Falls or other points before starting on the homeward trip.
The ladies of the G. A. R. assembled in convention in the First Baptist church this morning and there were business meetings, also of the Daughters of Veterans, the Naval Veterans and the Association of Union Ex-prisoners of War. In addition to the larger gatherings the veterans met in corps, brigade and regimental reunion all over the town. Though the business of the encampment is rapidly nearing a close the entertainment features will continue till the end of the week. The campfires, with fireworks and other demonstrations, are to continue every night during the rest of the week, elaborate programs with music and recitations being announced up to Saturday night. But many of the veterans will leave Saratoga tomorrow, many of those from the south and west having arranged for visits to New York city, Niagara Falls or other points before starting on the homeward trip.

MASKED MEN ROBBED ROCKFORD WOMAN IS SUING INTERURBAN

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Rockford, Ill., Sept. 12.—Clintling that she was thrown from a car while attempting to alight and sustained serious injuries, Mrs. Edith Paschke has brought a $5,000 damage suit against the Rockford & Interurban company. In her declaration she alleges the car was started before she had time to leave the steps. The expenses for treatment after the accident she places at $500.
Two Desperadoes Held Up Famous Great Northern Train, Blew Safe and Rifled Mail Pouch.
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 12.—The Great Northern railway's "Oriental Limited," a noted transcontinental train, was held up by two masked men near Rockford, Mont., early today. The desperadoes dynamited the empty safe and robbed the mail car going through the registered mail pouch.

AMALGAMATED COPPER COMPANY TO CLOSE DOWN MINES AT BUTTE, MONT.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
New York City, Sept. 12.—The Amalgamated Copper company is about to shut down its mines in and about Butte, Mont., for an indefinite period. The suspension of operations is due to overproduction, a lack of demand for copper, and the difficulty of obtaining adequate supplies of fuel at Butte.
Marriage License: A marriage license has been granted to Minnie Tausch of this city and Emil Bahr of Milwaukee.
Remodeling Home: Contractor John Ross is remodeling his home at 151 Cornelia street.

SABLE ISLAND WAS PASSED AT FOUR

Wireless Message Brings More News of the Big Turbines, "Luntania."
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Halifax, Nova Scotia, Sept. 12.—A wireless message from Sable Island says the Cunard turbine liner "Luntania" passed there at four o'clock this morning.

Want to sell a picture rare?
Anything you have to spare
Can be sold and quickly too
With our ads—it's up to you.

3 Lines, 3 Times 25c

WANT ADS.

WANTED.

WANTED—Bell boy at Myers Hotel.

WANTED—Clean, good sized cotton rugs, for wiping machinery, at tire office.

WANTED—Places where young men and women may obtain board and room in exchange for work. No Wis. business College.

WANTED, at once—Two boys to learn the printing trade. Gazette office.

WANTED—Loan of $5,000 for five to ten years on this secured security. Address at once, "Loan," care of Gazette.

WANTED—Immediately—Two competent girls for private family, wages as per week. Also girls for hotel. Mrs. R. McCarthy, 274 W. Milwaukee St., both phones.

WANTED—Girl for housework. Mrs. H. H.
Hill, cor. Jackson and South Second Sts.,
Telephone 612.

WANTED—Charpentiers and cabinet makers
for small, door and interior finish factory.
Willard Lumber Co., Watkinson, Wis.

WANTED—A situation as housekeeper or domestic, prefer no children. Address
John Holand, Janesville, Wis.

WANTED—Bright office girl. Inquire at Farmer Post Co.

WANTED—Cook and housemaid. Oaden H.
Botters, 141 E. Lawrence Place. Apply between two and five, or after seven o'clock.

WANTED—Painters at 24 Wall St. Geo. H.
Harris.

WANTED—To rent—A seven or eight-room house in Third ward, in good repair. Address C. E. Luckin, Rock Co. Sugar Co.

WANTED—Two cooks, dining room, girl, chamber maid and seamstress at school
for blind.

WANTED—Ambitious young man willing to devote some spare time to work that will increase his income. A. Z. care of Gazette.

SALERMAN WANTED—Experienced salesman for first class product, $25 to $50 per week. Columbia Phonograph Co., 614 Main St.,
St. Louis, Mo., or 1910 12a. m.

WANTED—Boy over sixteen years old, for Haley & Co.

WANTED—Furniture at Riverside Laundry.

WANTED—By or before Saturday, the 14th—
A 6x7 or 8x10 camera. Must be good and cheap. Address J. J. Gazette.

WANTED—Two chauffeurs in Janesville, to carry ladies with own private health resort, good pay. J. J. Gazette, 121
Highland avenue, Janesville, Wis.

FOR RENT

FOR RENT—North end of house No. 10,
Fourth St. Inquire at city treasurer's office.

FOR RENT—Upper flat nearly new. Very convenient, suitable for two families, rent eight dollars. Inquire at No. 22 Fifth avenue.

FOR RENT—Modern house with furnace, bath, hot and cold water. Inquire at 12
Hager avenue, new phone 214 red.

FOR RENT—New modern flat, steam heat, bath and cold water, bath, etc. Inquire at 14 N. W. Franklin St. Inquire at 14 N. W. Franklin St.

FOR RENT—Furnished room suitable for two gentlemen, 104 S. Academy St.

FOR RENT—Furnished room, Inquire of John
McIntosh, a River street.

FOR RENT—After October 1st—Furnished house
for cor. Court and N. Third Sts., P. P. Stevens, 101 E. Lawrence Ave.

FOR RENT—Two furnished rooms with board,
Mrs. C. D. Stevens, 32 Milwaukee Ave.

FOR RENT—Two nicely furnished front rooms, all modern conveniences, furnace heat, bath, etc. Inquire at 251 Prospect avenue.

FOR RENT—Flat on W. Milwaukee street,
Inquire at 141 Fourth St.

FOR RENT—Two or three nicely furnished rooms reasonable, Inquire at 111 Fourth avenue.

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Home No. 1 spring chicken; old phone 1002.

FOR SALE—The W. R. Jeffers home on North
Franklin St. Apply to F. L. Stevens, Lov-ley block.

FOR SALE—1907 model two-cylinder Hampden with top. Car and tires in best of condition. W. R. Hays, Sharon, Wis.

FOR SALE—A great assortment of 1000 houses, two large lots, and lots. Owner obliged to leave town, and must sell. Inquire at 102 Park street.

FOR SALE—Cheap—One large sized Parlor heater used six months; also two small wood heaters. Call 241 Prospect avenue.

FOR SALE—OR RENT—Ten-room house and bath at 211 South First street. Inquire of J. H. Conley at pop corn stand.

FOR SALE—Furniture—Cotton mill, motor, large safe, large box, fruit case, two horset, two vases, and other cases. Must go this week at 101 N. Van Hook's grocery store.

FOR SALE—The Hagerman plantation, one of the most notable estates in the south, consisting of about 1100 acres, all in one body;
about 2,000 acres of it in long but yellow virgin timber; 1,200 acres in hard wood timber;
and some farm land in high state of cultivation;
equipped with all buildings, tools, live stock,
etc. Plantation now in operation, located in Hampden county, Georgia. At an extremely low price from speculative elements. It is in high grade, and will bear the closest investigation. W. J. Liles & Co., Janesville, Wis.

MECHANICAL.

MAINTENANCE, dies, tools, models, novelties, and specialties. We make nothing and make it right. Try us and see. 3 years' experience, fast and accurate dies in 10 to 15
in. at a bargain. Auto Machine Works Co., 244 N.
E. Clinton St., Chicago.

MISCELLANEOUS

PARTIES wishing flowers for cemetery would call on or call at 1275 N. Third street, near Cathedral street. Red phone 1002.

MISS L. L. LAYMAN, 104 West Milwaukee St.

STUDY only ten cents for share of first class work done. M. A. Layman & Carey, 6 S.
Jeffers street.

..Forty Years Ago..

Janesville Daily Gazette, Thursday, Sept. 12, 1867.—THE COUNTY FAIR.—COMPLETION OF THE PREMIUM LIST.—Fruit and Flower Department.—The show in this department is very creditable, notwithstanding it is confined to a very few exhibitors, owing no doubt to the very liberal premium list offered by the managers of the society amounting in the aggregate to the very LIBERAL sum of FIFTY-FOUR DOLLARS, all told. * * * Of fruits, George W. Bonds of Rock, exhibited thirty-seven varieties of fall and winter apples, consisting of the following kinds: Wine Russet, Gloria Mund, Yellow Belleflower, Westfield Seedling, Golden Russet, Winter Pearmain, * * * Maiden's Blush, Northern Spy, Lane Sweet, Hoskins' Pippin, Tullip, Williams' Favorite, and seven varieties names unknown. * * * D. E. Field of Janesville exhibits five varieties of pears and the Delaware, Concord, and one other variety of grapes supposed to be the Isabella, Hiram Jackson, Earl, of Janesville, exhibits magnificent specimens of the Flemish Beauty pear. Mrs. F. S. Lawrence, city of Janesville, enters thirty-five different varieties of flowers. * * * Theda of Speed—in the evening race yesterday best two in three, the entries were GREEN MOUNTAIN MAID, owned by C. W. Phillips, GRAY SQUIRREL, by A. G. Johnson, and RED IRON by C. Owen. Won by GREEN MOUNTAIN MAID in 3:10, 3:01 and 3:08. * * * Fine Arts Hall—Isora Fowler exhibited a very pretty piece of oil painting which showed decided merit when the fact is considered that it was executed when she was eleven years of age. The same lady showed also a beautiful wreath of wax flowers. By far the largest and finest display of pictures—plain and colored photographs and oil paintings, was by Mr. J. A. Thompson. His work on exhibition was excellent and elicited a great deal of commendation. * * * Mechanical Department—The Nash and Curtis lead separator was the center of attraction. The Little Chumpon Reaper of James Harris came in for its due amount of notice as did his seed-drill. A. C. Starnard showed to good advantage his new washing machine, which is decidedly a sensible invention, and the ladies, who are interested in such matters, examined it with great satisfaction. The popular washer of Doty Brothers & Richardson was on exhibition, and was frequently heard the remark made by those invited to examine it—"We knew its excellence already."

Theatre.—This evening will be presented the five-act drama "Hidden Heart" from the Ledger story by Alice Southworth and concluding with the romantic Irish farce, "Paddy Miles' Boy," in both of which will appear the favorite John Dillon and Mr. Dock, sustained by an admirable company.

Personal.—General Hubert E. Palmer has arrived at the Myers House. He will deliver the address at the Agricultural Fair at one o'clock P. M. tomorrow.

Before The Footlights

Real Atmosphere of South.

The scenery of "Under Southern Skies" is a reproduction of the luxuriant, flowery landscape and stately homes of the South. The women wear the dainty, airy costumes affected by the high born Southern woman, and the play fairly bubbles with the gay and lively hospitality for which the people of the South have always been noted. Woven throughout the scenes of merriment and music with which the play abounds, is a story of intense interest that holds

Mozart, made his debut in vaudeville at the Alhambra theatre, New York, last week in a one act farce entitled, "She Loves Me, She Loves Me Not."

An Epic of the Turf.

"Checkers" is a story of the race track, of the horses and the men whose hearts beat time to their hoofbeats. It begins with a dash like all races should, and it ends with a dash, and in between there are moments when the thunderous hoofbeats are muffled in the dirt of the course, and rider and horse are hidden with dust. In these moments there are pathos and pathos, and then comes, and then comes more the faster breaks through the dust clouds and "Checkers" down to his last cent, and with a quite thing before his eyes, standing on a gallant horse the fifty dollar gold piece his sweetheart had given him for a keepsake, and luck smiles on him and he wins both fortune and her. "Checkers" will be seen at the Myers theatre Tuesday, Sept. 17.

"Gladiator" Has Settled Down.
Robert Downing, the tragedian, is now manager of the Bijou Family theatre at Frederick, Md., in association with W. S. Haller, formerly manager of the City Opera house in that town.

Limit of Emotionism.
Joe Weber has declined upon the highly emotional title of "Hill, Hill, Hurray" for his new play.

JANESVILLE MARKET

(Reported for the Gazette Sept. 6.)
Bar Corn—$17@18 per ton.
Rye—80c.
Barley—65c@75c.
Oats—Old, 51c@52c; new, 48c@50c.
Feed—Bar corn and oats, 28c per ton.
Standard Middlings—25c@26c per ton, sacked.
Bran—22c@25c per ton.
Oil Meal—$1.75@1.85 per cwt.
Corn Meal—$2.75@2.85 per ton.
Hay—Haled, old, 12c@14c; new, 11c@12c.
Straw—Haled, per ton, 3c@5c.
Dairy Butter—22c per lb.
Creamery Butter, 26c lb.
New Potatoes—50c@60c per bushel.
Eggs—17c@18c.
Hghn, Ill, Sept. 2.—The official butter market is firm at 26 cents.

Abandoned Farming Lands.
In the state of New York there are 12,000 abandoned farms, representing an area of 12,000,000 acres and capable of carrying for a population of 250,000. It is stated that farm lands in that state have decreased $170,000,000 in value in the last 20 years.—Chicago Journal.

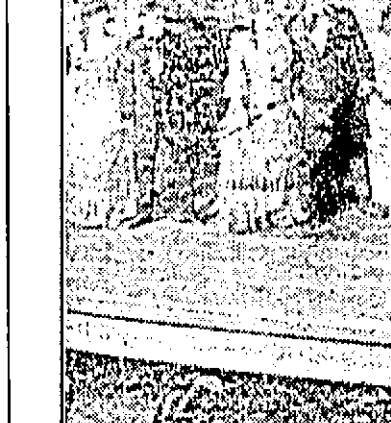

Buy It in Janesville.

HANS ROBERT AS "CHECKERS"

the audience from the rise to the fall of the curtain. A large cast is employed in the presentation of this play; twenty-three people, and each one has been selected because of his or her special fitness for the part. Altogether the appearance of "Under Southern Skies" at the Myers theatre, matinee and evening, on Friday, Sept. 13, will be one of the big events of the theatrical season.

Baucant in Vaudeville.

Aubrey Boycecault who appeared here last season in "The Greater Love," a play founded on the life of

SCENE FROM THIRD ACT OF "UNDER SOUTHERN SKIES," WHICH

APPEARS TOMORROW EVENING

LOUISVILLE WINS VICTORY

"LONG HOUSE" OF RED MEN WILL BE ERECTED THERE.

Great Council at Norfolk So Decides—Liquor Dealers May Not Be Barred from Order.

Norfolk, Va., Sept. 12.—The features of Wednesday's session of the great council of Red Men were an agreement to reconsider on Thursday the resolution having liquor dealers from the order; the selection of Louisville, Ky., for the permanent location of the "long house" of the national body, to be erected at a cost of $100,000; the recommendation by the finance committee that the next great council fire be held in some middle western city in order to curtail expenses, and minor changes in the funeral ritual.

Atlantic City is making a strong fight for the next convention and may win out, despite the recommendation of the finance committee.

There was a great fight, with several attempts at postponement of action, on the question of the "long house." The Kentucky delegation succeeded in the end in securing final consideration of the minority report favoring Louisville, and this was adopted amid great excitement.

With the charge that the amendment adopted Tuesday prohibiting membership in the future to all saloonkeepers and bartenders had been "railroaded" through without a necessary two-thirds vote, reconsideration was agreed to.

The consolidation of the great councils of Oklahoma and Indian Territory was deferred.

Odessa Jews to Be Protested.

Odessa, Sept. 12.—The new prefect of Odessa, Gen. Novitsky, assumed office Wednesday. He succeeds Gen. Gregoroff. Gen. Novitsky at once issued a proclamation threatening to prosecute to the full extent of the law all persons who attacked Jews or other members of the community. The issuance of this warning, which is said to have been done upon direct instructions from the emperor, reflects the peaceful citizens of Odessa.

Explosion Hurts Fifty Persons.

Pecula, Ill., Sept. 12.—Fifty persons were injured at Toulon by the explosion of powder or gas in the hardware store of Wheeler & Co., while firemen were trying to extinguish a blaze in the basement of the store. The explosion hurled pieces of glass, bricks and debris into a crowd of spectators. Most of the injuries were slight.

Detroit River Tunnel Caves In.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 12.—Twenty-five Italian laborers warned by the noise of crumbling supports barely escaped with their lives Wednesday when about 60 feet of the projected Michigan Central tunnel under the Detroit river caved in. The accident occurred in Windsor, Ont., at the Canadian approach to the tunnel.

Kishinev Massacre Denied.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 12.—A telegram received here from Kishinev advises that the statements made by the Russians arriving at the Romanian frontier of an anti-Jewish outbreak in that city in which 50 Jews are said to have been killed are without foundation.

Weather Forecast by Wool.

The shepherd can predict the weather by observing the wool of his charges. The earlier the hair, the finer the weather.

Hay's Hair Health RESTORES GRAY HAIR TO ITS NATURAL COLOR.

Stops its falling out, and positively removes Dandruff. Keeps hair soft and glossy. Is not a dye. Guaranteed perfectly pure. Price 50c. bottles, all druggists.

Worth Its Cost

Because it is the only high-grade baking powder sold at a moderate price. Cheaper than Trust powders—dearer than cheap low-grade powders—better than either is

Calumet Baking Powder

The powder to depend upon for greatest leavening power, perfect purity and wholesomeness. Used and recommended by the highest authorities on domestic science.

Complies Strictly With ALL Pure Food Laws—both State and National.

Don't Forget—Calumet

One Hundred New Fall Suits Not Coming—But Here

Expressive of what the New York market is showing, "The Garment Store" offers for your approval about a hundred of the new suits. They were selected in a personal visit to the eastern market during the past three weeks and you can be assured of their being absolutely correct. It is unnecessary to go out of town or to risk the uncertainties of special orders when you can find the outfit you want right here in stock. The materials are plain and novelty broadcloth, fancy chevrons and serges, and the colorings are the handsomest that have been shown in many seasons. The size range is complete, from 34 to 40, and the prices are from $15 to $40. It will be a pleasure for us to show them, so don't be afraid of bothering us—we like it.

RISING BREAST

And many other painful and serious ailments from which most mothers suffer, can be avoided by the use of "Mother's Friend." This great remedy is a God-send to women, carrying them through their most critical ordeal with safety and no pain. No woman who uses "Mother's Friend" need fear the suffering and danger incident to birth; for it robs the ordeal of its horror and insures safety to life of mother and child, and leaves her in a condition more favorable to speedy recovery. The child is also healthy, strong and good natured. Our book "Motherhood," is worth its weight in gold to every woman, and will be sent free in plain envelope by addressing application to Bradfield Regulator Co., Atlanta, Ga.

ELECTRIC POWER

is more economical, more convenient and satisfactory than any other power. Cleaner, too, and ready at the turn of the switch day or night. You can run several machines with a single motor or you can have a motor for each machine. An electric motor will operate almost any type of machine. This is the electrical age. Electricity is the cheapest power in the long run. No engineer required. No coal, no dust, no noise and no repairs.

JANESVILLE ELECTRIC CO.

Both Phones On the Bridge

Pure Wines and Liquors

HIGH GRADE CIGARS

H. NELSON

Corner W. Milwaukee and Jackson Sts.,

Read Gazette Want Ads.

Six Reasons Why You Should Choose Dr. Richards for Your Dentistry.

- 1st. He studies every move so that he will not cause you pain.
- 2nd. The quality of his work is not excelled by any other dentist in this city.
- 3rd. He refuses to join any combines which raise prices.
- 4th. He only charges $5.00 for the identical same gold crown for which others charge you $10.00. Because you know the cost of living has gone up tremendously. It is going to take very much more money this fall to fit out the family than it did last year.
- 5th. Then why, under the sun, pay twice as much for exactly the same thing, when by choosing Dr. Richards to do your work you can get your dentistry done right and still keep about half your money in your pants pocket?

Office over Hall & Sayles.

CLEANERS AND DYERS

Spring Coats and Light Jackets Chemically Dry Cleaned.

Also Lace and Chenille Curtains, Organies, Silks, Etc.

CARL F. BROCKHAUS
JANESVILLE, WIS.

$77.75

IN ONLY NINE MONTHS' TIME

We sold yesterday what we could beat sixty dollars a month.

Therefore it's up to us to make good. That's our strongest point. We can always make good. Read the following letter from one of our graduates who tells us he is getting $77.75 a month in only nine months from the day he joined our school. He has a brother working for the same road who is doing even better.

NORTHERN PACIFIC RY. CO.
Bavalia, Mont., Aug. 28, 07.
Valentine School of Telegraphy,
Janesville, Wis.

Dear Sir: I am going to drop you a few lines to let you know my progress. I am now operator here. Salary $70 a month, and my overtime, amounting in all to $77.75 a month. Not so bad, for it's only nine months since I first joined your school. I thank you many times for the help of your school and teachers.

Your old student,
J. P. LITTLE.

If Mr. Little's letter interests you you might write him and ask him what he thinks of our school and its methods.

VALENTINE BROTHERS.

IF YOU want to buy that fine home of C. D. Childs at a low figure, now is your time. First come, first served. Nothing like it for the money in this city. Centrally located in the third ward. It is a bargain. Terms to suit.

Established 1855.

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK

Capital$125,000
Surplus & Profits.. 120,000

Generous patronage is the sincerest compliment the public can render to any bank.

The official published reports show that the deposits of THIS BANK have increased $180,000 during the past year.

We thank our friends for this evidence of appreciation and shall endeavor to merit its continuance.

COME AND SEE

just how we pasteurize milk. Come whenever you can.

We'll be glad to show you the process from start to finish.

And when you've seen it you'll understand why pasteurized milk is absolutely clean and pure and free from germs.

JANESVILLE PURE MILK CO.
Gridley & Craft, Props.

SHOT BY GUN IN WATCHMAN'S COAT

NORTH-WESTERN BRIDGE-BUILD-ER VICTIM OF QUEER ACCIDENT.

BULLET BORED THRO' THIGH

Garment Was Hanging in Tent and Fellow Workman Knocked It from Hook While Passing by Outside.

By a coat being knocked from an improvised hook within a tent at the North-Western bridge-builders' camp in Monterey this morning a 38 caliber revolver in one of the pockets was discharged and the bullet struck Edward Murdock, a workman, in the right thigh and bored entirely through the limb. The garment belonged to the night-watchman and the gun was cocked and ready for use. Murdock was in the tent shortly after seven o'clock gathering up his tools, preparatory to beginning the day's work, when a fellow employe, walking by outside, brushed against the canvas wall. The accidental explosion ensued. Murdock fell but soon regained his feet and with the aid of two workmen started for the business district of the town. Lying on his friends' shoulders he walked all the way from the camp to the city. No doctors were found in their offices along Milwaukee street and the three men, finding the Electric company's office open, stopped there and requested Frank Albrecht, an employe of the electric company, to call a surgeon. Dr. E. P. Woods was summoned. Finding the injured man in need of immediate attention and hospital care the physician secured his carriage and conveyed Murdock to the Mercy hospital. The wound, which is at the top of the right thigh near the hip joint, was found to be extraordinarily large and full eleven inches in length. But luckily no large arteries or veins had been severed and the loss of blood was not great considering the size of the hole. The wound was well cleaned and Dr. Woods is not anticipating trouble from blood poison. Murdock is a resident of Indiana.

BUSY DAYS FOR THE COUNTY OFFICERS

City Patrolman Peter Champion Acting as Turnkey—Deputy Took Micks to Green Bay Today.

These are exceedingly busy days for the county authorities. District Attorney John L. Fisher and Sheriff T. U. Fisher are in Beloit today where a court investigation is being held of the alleged incendiary fire on the David Moore farm near Atton several weeks ago. Deputy Sheriff Horatio Nelson went to Green Bay today, taking Henry Micks to the state reformatory there. Peter Champion of the city police department, who is acting as turnkey at the county jail, tomorrow Joseph Baner, convicted of highway robbery and sentenced to the state penitentiary, will be taken to Waupun.

BRIEF LOCAL NEWS.

Smoke The Governor 10c cigar. Use Crystal Lake ice.

Men's and ladies' underwear and hosiery for fall and winter wear at lowest prices. T. P. Burns.

Use Crystal Lake ice. All bills must be settled by the 15th of Sept. C. N. Van Kirk.

Fresh trout at Taylor Bros. Cream cakes at Phillips.

New arrivals daily in ladies' fall suits, coats, jackets and skirts, at moderate prices. T. P. Burns.

Fresh butchers at Taylor Bros. Harmon Park and return Sunday.

Last excursion this season. Round trip 60 cents.

Fresh pork at Taylor Bros. Smoke Rubini clear Havana cigars.

Fresh fish at Taylor Bros. My store will be open Saturday night for those who wish to pay their bills. C. N. Van Kirk.

WANTED—At once, two boys to learn the printing trade. Gazette office.

Wisconsin's greatest county fair will be held at Jefferson, Sept. 24, 25, 26 and 27. This is the big four full days fair. Horse races, base ball and grand fireworks each day.

Harmon Park and return Sunday. Last excursion this season. Round trip 60 cents.

Cream buns at Althe Itazooka's. The Tom Thumby wedding will be repeated, by request, at the M. E. church Friday evening, September 20.

Harmon Park and return Sunday. Last excursion this season. Round trip 60 cents.

The Jefferson Co. Fair enjoys the distinction of having the best horse races in the state. This year, Sept. 24 to 27, will be no exception.

The grounds of the Walworth County Agricultural Society at Elkhorn have been extended this year and accommodations have been improved. An arena has been set apart for the exhibition where they can be left in safety. Premiums and purses have been increased and the list of special attractions will excel any of their past productions. Space for the concessions is being rapidly secured and space for exhibits in every department is in demand. Remember the dates, Sept. 17-20. You can make the holiday time both pleasant and profitable.

Five coconut puddings at Pappas. Harmon Park and return Sunday. Last excursion this season. Round trip 60 cents.

Now fall dress goods and suitings in the new effects at lowest prices. T. P. Burns.

Regular monthly meeting of the Ladies' auxiliary of the A. O. U. will be held this evening in Foresters' hall, at 8 o'clock.

The date of Walworth county's home-coming, harvest-home, the event that never disappoints the people, is Sept. 17, 18, 19, 20. Every day complete in interesting features. Encourage the management by extending the "good hand" and secure your portion of the pleasures. Special efforts have been made for Wednesday—children's free day—to entertain the children. Come and join them in their pleasures. There will be features for everyone. A day of pleasure, at the fair at Elkhorn.

SEE THE BABIES AND FLOWERS AT THE RINK SATURDAY AFTERNOON

The prizes offered to the winners by the business men add interest to the competition in the baby and flower exhibit of Saturday. In addition to the prizes enumerated in yesterday's paper the following have been added:

For largest variety of roses—Picture, J. H. Myers.

For largest variety of gladioli—Picture, C. W. Diehl.

For largest variety of nasturtiums—Haviland china plate, W. J. Stoddy.

For largest variety of cosmos—Centerville Archie Reid & Co.

Largest variety of phlox—Vase, C. S. Putnam.

The fastest baby will receive an African, donated by Bowditch & Sons.

The second fastest baby a prize given by the Badger Drug Co.

PERSONAL MENTION

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Voegel of Monticello, Wis., were Janesville visitors yesterday.

Edward Matthews of Chicago is spending the day with friends in this city.

James Saxby of Quinlan, Va., is here for a visit and will depart tomorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Blumer and Mrs. Lillian Millbrandt of Monticello, Wis., were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kennedy, 207 Meloy Boulevard, yesterday.

Miss Mary Kelly left Wednesday for Beaver Dam, where she goes to enter Mayland academy.

Mrs. A. R. Wilkerson, who has been seriously ill at her home, 150 Locust street, is improving slowly.

County Superintendent C. D. Antle did last night for Seattle, Wash., to be gone a few weeks.

Nick Pappas will spend Friday in Milwaukee.

Mrs. J. L. Fletcher is entertaining here Mr. L. P. J. Abelling, and daughter Marie of New York city.

Mrs. Geo. Rumlall, Mrs. Flora Janes of Evansville departed on a six week trip to California yesterday.

Mrs. Wm. McQuade of Loveland, Colorado, is visiting in the city, the guest of Mrs. G. M. Griffey. Mrs. McQuade will be remembered as Mrs. W. W. Woodside of this city.

Mrs. Estelle M. Stepien was a visitor at the state fair in Milwaukee yesterday.

Mrs. J. L. Fletcher and Mrs. Robt. Bear are taking in the fair at Milwaukee.

Mrs. Chas. Wilcox of Toledo, Ohio, is visiting Mrs. G. C. Corlies, 203 Center street.

Mrs. John Hoeckert, who has been very ill at her home on Glen street, is reported to be somewhat better.

Miss Nellie Kohon, who has been visiting relatives here, has returned to her home in Madison.

James Reed and Albert Sawyer are attending the state fair in Milwaukee.

Mrs. Russell and son of Spokane, Wash., are guests of Mrs. Anna McNeil.

H. T. Keller of Brodhead is in the city today.

James Menhall of Beloit was in the city last evening.

Miss Hattie Fellows and Miss Carrie Minor of the Hotel Myers were attending the state fair in Milwaukee.

CHANGE OF VENUE TAKEN IN TOBACCO CASE AND ADJOURNED

Suit for $200 Damages Taken to Justice Reeder's Court and Adjourned Till Sept. 25.

In the case of D. A. Holmes versus Frank Reed a change of venue was taken this morning from Justice Stanley D. Tallman's court to Justice C. W. Reeder's court. An adjournment was taken by the consent of both parties until Sept. 25. The case is an application for a judgment for $200 alleged to have been lost by the plaintiff in a tobacco contract. Petitioner, Jeffrey and Monat appeared for the plaintiff and Carpenter and Carpenter were counsel for the defendant.

CHANGE OF VENUE TAKEN IN TOBACCO CASE AND ADJOURNED

Suit for $200 Damages Taken to Justice Reeder's Court and Adjourned Till Sept. 25.

In the case of D. A. Holmes versus Frank Reed a change of venue was taken this morning from Justice Stanley D. Tallman's court to Justice C. W. Reeder's court. An adjournment was taken by the consent of both parties until Sept. 25. The case is an application for a judgment for $200 alleged to have been lost by the plaintiff in a tobacco contract. Petitioner, Jeffrey and Monat appeared for the plaintiff and Carpenter and Carpenter were counsel for the defendant.

CHANGE OF VENUE TAKEN IN TOBACCO CASE AND ADJOURNED

Suit for $200 Damages Taken to Justice Reeder's Court and Adjourned Till Sept. 25.

In the case of D. A. Holmes versus Frank Reed a change of venue was taken this morning from Justice Stanley D. Tallman's court to Justice C. W. Reeder's court. An adjournment was taken by the consent of both parties until Sept. 25. The case is an application for a judgment for $200 alleged to have been lost by the plaintiff in a tobacco contract. Petitioner, Jeffrey and Monat appeared for the plaintiff and Carpenter and Carpenter were counsel for the defendant.

CHANGE OF VENUE TAKEN IN TOBACCO CASE AND ADJOURNED

Suit for $200 Damages Taken to Justice Reeder's Court and Adjourned Till Sept. 25.

In the case of D. A. Holmes versus Frank Reed a change of venue was taken this morning from Justice Stanley D. Tallman's court to Justice C. W. Reeder's court. An adjournment was taken by the consent of both parties until Sept. 25. The case is an application for a judgment for $200 alleged to have been lost by the plaintiff in a tobacco contract. Petitioner, Jeffrey and Monat appeared for the plaintiff and Carpenter and Carpenter were counsel for the defendant.

CHANGE OF VENUE TAKEN IN TOBACCO CASE AND ADJOURNED

Suit for $200 Damages Taken to Justice Reeder's Court and Adjourned Till Sept. 25.

In the case of D. A. Holmes versus Frank Reed a change of venue was taken this morning from Justice Stanley D. Tallman's court to Justice C. W. Reeder's court. An adjournment was taken by the consent of both parties until Sept. 25. The case is an application for a judgment for $200 alleged to have been lost by the plaintiff in a tobacco contract. Petitioner, Jeffrey and Monat appeared for the plaintiff and Carpenter and Carpenter were counsel for the defendant.

CHANGE OF VENUE TAKEN IN TOBACCO CASE AND ADJOURNED

Suit for $200 Damages Taken to Justice Reeder's Court and Adjourned Till Sept. 25.

In the case of D. A. Holmes versus Frank Reed a change of venue was taken this morning from Justice Stanley D. Tallman's court to Justice C. W. Reeder's court. An adjournment was taken by the consent of both parties until Sept. 25. The case is an application for a judgment for $200 alleged to have been lost by the plaintiff in a tobacco contract. Petitioner, Jeffrey and Monat appeared for the plaintiff and Carpenter and Carpenter were counsel for the defendant.

CHANGE OF VENUE TAKEN IN TOBACCO CASE AND ADJOURNED

Suit for $200 Damages Taken to Justice Reeder's Court and Adjourned Till Sept. 25.

In the case of D. A. Holmes versus Frank Reed a change of venue was taken this morning from Justice Stanley D. Tallman's court to Justice C. W. Reeder's court. An adjournment was taken by the consent of both parties until Sept. 25. The case is an application for a judgment for $200 alleged to have been lost by the plaintiff in a tobacco contract. Petitioner, Jeffrey and Monat appeared for the plaintiff and Carpenter and Carpenter were counsel for the defendant.

CHANGE OF VENUE TAKEN IN TOBACCO CASE AND ADJOURNED

Suit for $200 Damages Taken to Justice Reeder's Court and Adjourned Till Sept. 25.

In the case of D. A. Holmes versus Frank Reed a change of venue was taken this morning from Justice Stanley D. Tallman's court to Justice C. W. Reeder's court. An adjournment was taken by the consent of both parties until Sept. 25. The case is an application for a judgment for $200 alleged to have been lost by the plaintiff in a tobacco contract. Petitioner, Jeffrey and Monat appeared for the plaintiff and Carpenter and Carpenter were counsel for the defendant.

CHANGE OF VENUE TAKEN IN TOBACCO CASE AND ADJOURNED

Suit for $200 Damages Taken to Justice Reeder's Court and Adjourned Till Sept. 25.

In the case of D. A. Holmes versus Frank Reed a change of venue was taken this morning from Justice Stanley D. Tallman's court to Justice C. W. Reeder's court. An adjournment was taken by the consent of both parties until Sept. 25. The case is an application for a judgment for $200 alleged to have been lost by the plaintiff in a tobacco contract. Petitioner, Jeffrey and Monat appeared for the plaintiff and Carpenter and Carpenter were counsel for the defendant.

CHANGE OF VENUE TAKEN IN TOBACCO CASE AND ADJOURNED

Suit for $200 Damages Taken to Justice Reeder's Court and Adjourned Till Sept. 25.

In the case of D. A. Holmes versus Frank Reed a change of venue was taken this morning from Justice Stanley D. Tallman's court to Justice C. W. Reeder's court. An adjournment was taken by the consent of both parties until Sept. 25. The case is an application for a judgment for $200 alleged to have been lost by the plaintiff in a tobacco contract. Petitioner, Jeffrey and Monat appeared for the plaintiff and Carpenter and Carpenter were counsel for the defendant.

CHANGE OF VENUE TAKEN IN TOBACCO CASE AND ADJOURNED

Suit for $200 Damages Taken to Justice Reeder's Court and Adjourned Till Sept. 25.

EDGERTON WOMAN WAS HIT BY TRAIN

MRS. S. ZAHN UNCONSCIOUS FROM FRACTURES AND WOUNDS.

INJURIES PROBABLY FATAL

Was Wife of Workman and Mother—Deafness Prevented Her from Hearing Bell.

[Special to the Gazette.] Edgerton, Wis., Sept. 12.—Prevented by deafness from hearing the train's approach, Mrs. S. Zahn walked onto a grade crossing immediately in front of a Milwaukee-bound passenger train over the St. Paul road at about six o'clock this morning and was struck, receiving injuries that will probably prove fatal. She was hurled a considerable distance and when picked up unconscious was thought to be dead. One arm and three ribs were fractured and a terrible gash cut in the back of her head. She had not regained sensibility up till two o'clock and it is probable that the slightest hope of her living is entertained by the physicians in attendance. Mrs. Zahn is the wife of a workman, and the mother of two small children. Her age is between thirty and thirty-five years.

Frank Akin will be in box for Janesville

During Balance of Season and Markham Will Catch—Game at Harlem Park, Rockford, Next Sunday—Round Trip 60 Cents.

Manley having a sore hand, Janesville has secured Frank Akin, the old league pitcher, to play with them the balance of the season and Markham will catch. Next Sunday they play Rockford at Harlem Park and as the round trip is only 60 cents the supporters of the club hope a goodly number of Janesville people will attend.

Frank Akin will be in box for Janesville

During Balance of Season and Markham Will Catch—Game at Harlem Park, Rockford, Next Sunday—Round Trip 60 Cents.

Manley having a sore hand, Janesville has secured Frank Akin, the old league pitcher, to play with them the balance of the season and Markham will catch. Next Sunday they play Rockford at Harlem Park and as the round trip is only 60 cents the supporters of the club hope a goodly number of Janesville people will attend.

Frank Akin will be in box for Janesville

During Balance of Season and Markham Will Catch—Game at Harlem Park, Rockford, Next Sunday—Round Trip 60 Cents.

Manley having a sore hand, Janesville has secured Frank Akin, the old league pitcher, to play with them the balance of the season and Markham will catch. Next Sunday they play Rockford at Harlem Park and as the round trip is only 60 cents the supporters of the club hope a goodly number of Janesville people will attend.

Frank Akin will be in box for Janesville

During Balance of Season and Markham Will Catch—Game at Harlem Park, Rockford, Next Sunday—Round Trip 60 Cents.

Manley having a sore hand, Janesville has secured Frank Akin, the old league pitcher, to play with them the balance of the season and Markham will catch. Next Sunday they play Rockford at Harlem Park and as the round trip is only 60 cents the supporters of the club hope a goodly number of Janesville people will attend.

Frank Akin will be in box for Janesville

During Balance of Season and Markham Will Catch—Game at Harlem Park, Rockford, Next Sunday—Round Trip 60 Cents.

Manley having a sore hand, Janesville has secured Frank Akin, the old league pitcher, to play with them the balance of the season and Markham will catch. Next Sunday they play Rockford at Harlem Park and as the round trip is only 60 cents the supporters of the club hope a goodly number of Janesville people will attend.

Frank Akin will be in box for Janesville

During Balance of Season and Markham Will Catch—Game at Harlem Park, Rockford, Next Sunday—Round Trip 60 Cents.

Manley having a sore hand, Janesville has secured Frank Akin, the old league pitcher, to play with them the balance of the season and Markham will catch. Next Sunday they play Rockford at Harlem Park and as the round trip is only 60 cents the supporters of the club hope a goodly number of Janesville people will attend.

Frank Akin will be in box for Janesville

During Balance of Season and Markham Will Catch—Game at Harlem Park, Rockford, Next Sunday—Round Trip 60 Cents.

Manley having a sore hand, Janesville has secured Frank Akin, the old league pitcher, to play with them the balance of the season and Markham will catch. Next Sunday they play Rockford at Harlem Park and as the round trip is only 60 cents the supporters of the club hope a goodly number of Janesville people will attend.

Frank Akin will be in box for Janesville

During Balance of Season and Markham Will Catch—Game at Harlem Park, Rockford, Next Sunday—Round Trip 60 Cents.

Manley having a sore hand, Janesville has secured Frank Akin, the old league pitcher, to play with them the balance of the season and Markham will catch. Next Sunday they play Rockford at Harlem Park and as the round trip is only 60 cents the supporters of the club hope a goodly number of Janesville people will attend.

Frank Akin will be in box for Janesville

During Balance of Season and Markham Will Catch—Game at Harlem Park, Rockford, Next Sunday—Round Trip 60 Cents.

Manley having a sore hand, Janesville has secured Frank Akin, the old league pitcher, to play with them the balance of the season and Markham will catch. Next Sunday they play Rockford at Harlem Park and as the round trip is only 60 cents the supporters of the club hope a goodly number of Janesville people will attend.

Frank Akin will be in box for Janesville

During Balance of Season and Markham Will Catch—Game at Harlem Park, Rockford, Next Sunday—Round Trip 60 Cents.

Manley having a sore hand, Janesville has secured Frank Akin, the old league pitcher, to play with them the balance of the season and Markham will catch. Next Sunday they play Rockford at Harlem Park and as the round trip is only 60 cents the supporters of the club hope a goodly number of Janesville people will attend.

Frank Akin will be in box for Janesville

During Balance of Season and Markham Will Catch—Game at Harlem Park, Rockford, Next Sunday—Round Trip 60 Cents.

Manley having a sore hand, Janesville has secured Frank Akin, the old league pitcher, to play with them the balance of the season and Markham will catch. Next Sunday they play Rockford at Harlem Park and as the round trip is only 60 cents the supporters of the club hope a goodly number of Janesville people will attend.

Frank Akin will be in box for Janesville

During Balance of Season and Markham Will Catch—Game at Harlem Park, Rockford, Next Sunday—Round Trip 60 Cents.

Manley having a sore hand, Janesville has secured Frank Akin, the old league pitcher, to play with them the balance of the season and Markham will catch. Next Sunday they play Rockford at Harlem Park and as the round trip is only 60 cents the supporters of the club hope a goodly number of Janesville people will attend.

Frank Akin will be in box for Janesville

During Balance of Season and Markham Will Catch—Game at Harlem Park, Rockford, Next Sunday—Round Trip 60 Cents.

Manley having a sore hand, Janesville has secured Frank Akin, the old league pitcher, to play with them the balance of the season and Markham will catch. Next Sunday they play Rockford at Harlem Park and as the round trip is only 60 cents the supporters of the club hope a goodly number of Janesville people will attend.

Frank Akin will be in box for Janesville

During Balance of Season and Markham Will Catch—Game at Harlem Park, Rockford, Next Sunday—Round Trip 60 Cents.

Manley having a sore hand, Janesville has secured Frank Akin, the old league pitcher, to play with them the balance of the season and Markham will catch. Next Sunday they play Rockford at Harlem Park and as the round trip is only 60 cents the supporters of the club hope a goodly number of Janesville people will attend.

Frank Akin will be in box for Janesville

During Balance of Season and Markham Will Catch—Game at Harlem Park, Rockford, Next Sunday—Round Trip 60 Cents.

Manley having a sore hand, Janesville has secured Frank Akin, the old league pitcher, to play with them the balance of the season and Markham will catch. Next Sunday they play Rockford at Harlem Park and as the round trip is only 60 cents the supporters of the club hope a goodly number of Janesville people will attend.

Frank Akin will be in

THE GRIP OF HONOR

Cyrus Townsend Brady.

Author of "The Southwestern," "In the West's Mail," etc.

Copyright, 1906, by CHARLES SCHIBNER'S SONS.

"Yes, sir. When he last officiated for me he was reading my funeral service," replied O'Neill, smiling.

"Some people would say it's much the same thing," laughed the captain; "but we know better. Ah, well, that's over now, thank God, and this lady—Madam," he said, turning to her, "I have you welcome to a ship once before. It is a different ship now, but the welcome is just the same."

"Know you aught of Major Edward Coventry, Captain Jones?" cried Elizabeth. "This time it was she who remembered."

"Why, he lies on the deck yonder, dying. He wouldn't let me take him below. Do you know—but I forgot; he was your friend."

"Take me to him," she cried hastily, and in a moment she was kneeling by his side. They had made him as comfortable as possible with cushions and boat cloaks, but his boots were numbered. His head was thrown back, his face ghastly pale. Blood stained the linen shirt about his breast. His eyes were closed. The end was at hand.

"Poor fellow!" said O'Neill in great sorrow. "He died for me." And then he briefly recounted the circumstances of their escape to the astonished captain.

"Do you know how he was wounded, sir?" he asked.

"It was my own hand that struck the blow," answered Jones. "Would it had been otherwise! There was a moment in the action when they sprang to board. He leaped upon the rail, cut his hand, and he was a fair and easy mark. I met him with a pike, which I buried in his bosom. He fell back sniffling. I remember that I thought it strange to see him sniffling at that time, even in the heat of the battle. Too bad—too bad!" he said.

"Oh, Edward," cried the girl, tears streaming down her face, "I never thought to see you thus! I never meant to bring you to this! If you could but speak to me—to say that you forgave me for it all—I could have your blessing before—"

The man stirred a little and opened his eyes. He looked about him vacantly, but consciousness began to dawn again, and with the dawn came recognition. It was the face of Elizabeth bending over him. She was the woman whom he loved. There, back of her, was O'Neill. He began to comprehend.

"Elizabeth," he murmured, "my dear—not in vain—"

"Forgive me—forgive me!" she cried brokenly. "Oh, forgive me! I did love you!"

"Yes," he said, faintly smiling, "but not like—"

He glanced at O'Neill. "You, too," he murmured. "Make—her—happy." His mind wandered a little. "Father," he cried suddenly, "don't look at me in that way! I did it because I loved her; her happiness before mine."

"Oh, doctor, can nothing be done? Is there no hope?" cried O'Neill to the attending surgeon.

"Nothing, sir. 'Twill not be long now," answered the surgeon, shaking his head.

CHAPTER XXIV.

"SOR GUILTY, MY LORD." Elizabeth's boat coming along, she, sir," said a midshipman to Captain Jones, "dying an admiral's flag."

"Ah, that will be our friend Lord Westbrooke," he said, turning toward the gangway. "Show him to me if he comes on board." Elizabeth knelt by the side of the dying man, who had sunk into silence again, and bathed his head with her handkerchief while the doctor applied some simple restorative. In a moment the stately form of the old admiral stepped through the gangway, and he looked about him in astonishment.

"God bless me, what a sight! I know that rebel was a desperate man, but I never imagined anything like this! Captain Pearson!" said he imperiously. "Where is he?"

"Here, my lord," said Pearson, meekly, coming out of the cabin, where he had withdrawn a little.

"I congratulate you, sir, on—"

"When her back aches"

A Woman Finds All Her Energy and Ambition Slipping Away.

Janesville woman know how the aches and pains that come when the kidneys fail make life a burden. Backache, hip pains, headaches, dizzy spells, distressing urinary troubles, all tell of sick kidneys and warn you of the stealthy approach of diabetes, dropsy and Bright's disease. Doan's Kidney Pills permanently cure all these disorders. Here's proof of it in a Janesville woman's words:

"Mrs. Anna Finegan, of 208 South River street, Janesville, Wis., says: 'I was almost helpless with pains in the small of my back and general physical weakness due to kidney trouble. I could not stoop and get straight again without taking hold of something, and finally I got so bad that I could not attend to my household work. About this time my attention was called to Doan's Kidney Pills and I got a box at the People's Drug company. I used them and they cured me. I consider Doan's Kidney Pills a wonderful cure for backache and kidney troubles.'"

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McMillan Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's and take no other.

any father—my father—"

The old man shook his head; his lips trembled. Gray faced and broken, all his years upon him, he turned away unsteadily, as if to go to his barge.

"Stop, sir," cried Pearson. "You forget we are not in possession of the ship. We are prisoners," he whispered.

"Ah, yes," said the admiral; "I had forgotten it. Well, it matters little to me. Captain Jones," he continued, turning to the little Scotsman, and proffering his sword, with a painful gesture, "I am your prisoner, it seems."

"Sir," said the little captain, and twenty generations of gentle blood could not have done it better, "allow me to match the act of an American sailor against the word of an English officer. You are free, my lord. Your boat awaits you. If I can do aught—"

"He it is," said the admiral simply. "Let me have my boy, and we will go away together, and I shall remember you differently in the future. If in England you ever need a friend, remember this moment and call upon me, farewell."

And two hung over the infirm and watched the white sails of the little boat beating away to the verdant shore, where the old castle still shone in the sunlight—two, sad, yet exultant. Their troubles were over now. They had lost everything else, but had gained each other in the losing.

"We ought to be very good to each other," said the sweet voice of the woman, "to make up to God all that he has preserved us from."

"Aye," said O'Neill, "and to give due value to the sacrifice of him who loved you, even as I do myself."

THE END.

any father—my father—"

The old man shook his head; his lips trembled. Gray faced and broken, all his years upon him, he turned away unsteadily, as if to go to his barge.

"Stop, sir," cried Pearson. "You forget we are not in possession of the ship. We are prisoners," he whispered.

"Ah, yes," said the admiral; "I had forgotten it. Well, it matters little to me. Captain Jones," he continued, turning to the little Scotsman, and proffering his sword, with a painful gesture, "I am your prisoner, it seems."

"Sir," said the little captain, and twenty generations of gentle blood could not have done it better, "allow me to match the act of an American sailor against the word of an English officer. You are free, my lord. Your boat awaits you. If I can do aught—"

"He it is," said the admiral simply. "Let me have my boy, and we will go away together, and I shall remember you differently in the future. If in England you ever need a friend, remember this moment and call upon me, farewell."

And two hung over the infirm and watched the white sails of the little boat beating away to the verdant shore, where the old castle still shone in the sunlight—two, sad, yet exultant. Their troubles were over now. They had lost everything else, but had gained each other in the losing.

"We ought to be very good to each other," said the sweet voice of the woman, "to make up to God all that he has preserved us from."

"Aye," said O'Neill, "and to give due value to the sacrifice of him who loved you, even as I do myself."

THE END.

any father—my father—"

The old man shook his head; his lips trembled. Gray faced and broken, all his years upon him, he turned away unsteadily, as if to go to his barge.

"Stop, sir," cried Pearson. "You forget we are not in possession of the ship. We are prisoners," he whispered.

"Ah, yes," said the admiral; "I had forgotten it. Well, it matters little to me. Captain Jones," he continued, turning to the little Scotsman, and proffering his sword, with a painful gesture, "I am your prisoner, it seems."

"Sir," said the little captain, and twenty generations of gentle blood could not have done it better, "allow me to match the act of an American sailor against the word of an English officer. You are free, my lord. Your boat awaits you. If I can do aught—"

"He it is," said the admiral simply. "Let me have my boy, and we will go away together, and I shall remember you differently in the future. If in England you ever need a friend, remember this moment and call upon me, farewell."

And two hung over the infirm and watched the white sails of the little boat beating away to the verdant shore, where the old castle still shone in the sunlight—two, sad, yet exultant. Their troubles were over now. They had lost everything else, but had gained each other in the losing.

"We ought to be very good to each other," said the sweet voice of the woman, "to make up to God all that he has preserved us from."

"Aye," said O'Neill, "and to give due value to the sacrifice of him who loved you, even as I do myself."

THE END.

any father—my father—"

The old man shook his head; his lips trembled. Gray faced and broken, all his years upon him, he turned away unsteadily, as if to go to his barge.

"Stop, sir," cried Pearson. "You forget we are not in possession of the ship. We are prisoners," he whispered.

"Ah, yes," said the admiral; "I had forgotten it. Well, it matters little to me. Captain Jones," he continued, turning to the little Scotsman, and proffering his sword, with a painful gesture, "I am your prisoner, it seems."

"Sir," said the little captain, and twenty generations of gentle blood could not have done it better, "allow me to match the act of an American sailor against the word of an English officer. You are free, my lord. Your boat awaits you. If I can do aught—"

"He it is," said the admiral simply. "Let me have my boy, and we will go away together, and I shall remember you differently in the future. If in England you ever need a friend, remember this moment and call upon me, farewell."

And two hung over the infirm and watched the white sails of the little boat beating away to the verdant shore, where the old castle still shone in the sunlight—two, sad, yet exultant. Their troubles were over now. They had lost everything else, but had gained each other in the losing.

"We ought to be very good to each other," said the sweet voice of the woman, "to make up to God all that he has preserved us from."

"Aye," said O'Neill, "and to give due value to the sacrifice of him who loved you, even as I do myself."

THE END.

any father—my father—"

The old man shook his head; his lips trembled. Gray faced and broken, all his years upon him, he turned away unsteadily, as if to go to his barge.

"Stop, sir," cried Pearson. "You forget we are not in possession of the ship. We are prisoners," he whispered.

"Ah, yes," said the admiral; "I had forgotten it. Well, it matters little to me. Captain Jones," he continued, turning to the little Scotsman, and proffering his sword, with a painful gesture, "I am your prisoner, it seems."

"Sir," said the little captain, and twenty generations of gentle blood could not have done it better, "allow me to match the act of an American sailor against the word of an English officer. You are free, my lord. Your boat awaits you. If I can do aught—"

"He it is," said the admiral simply. "Let me have my boy, and we will go away together, and I shall remember you differently in the future. If in England you ever need a friend, remember this moment and call upon me, farewell."

And two hung over the infirm and watched the white sails of the little boat beating away to the verdant shore, where the old castle still shone in the sunlight—two, sad, yet exultant. Their troubles were over now. They had lost everything else, but had gained each other in the losing.

"We ought to be very good to each other," said the sweet voice of the woman, "to make up to God all that he has preserved us from."

"Aye," said O'Neill, "and to give due value to the sacrifice of him who loved you, even as I do myself."

THE END.

any father—my father—"

The old man shook his head; his lips trembled. Gray faced and broken, all his years upon him, he turned away unsteadily, as if to go to his barge.

"Stop, sir," cried Pearson. "You forget we are not in possession of the ship. We are prisoners," he whispered.

"Ah, yes," said the admiral; "I had forgotten it. Well, it matters little to me. Captain Jones," he continued, turning to the little Scotsman, and proffering his sword, with a painful gesture, "I am your prisoner, it seems."

"Sir," said the little captain, and twenty generations of gentle blood could not have done it better, "allow me to match the act of an American sailor against the word of an English officer. You are free, my lord. Your boat awaits you. If I can do aught—"

"He it is," said the admiral simply. "Let me have my boy, and we will go away together, and I shall remember you differently in the future. If in England you ever need a friend, remember this moment and call upon me, farewell."

And two hung over the infirm and watched the white sails of the little boat beating away to the verdant shore, where the old castle still shone in the sunlight—two, sad, yet exultant. Their troubles were over now. They had lost everything else, but had gained each other in the losing.

"We ought to be very good to each other," said the sweet voice of the woman, "to make up to God all that he has preserved us from."

"Aye," said O'Neill, "and to give due value to the sacrifice of him who loved you, even as I do myself."

THE END.

any father—my father—"

The old man shook his head; his lips trembled. Gray faced and broken, all his years upon him, he turned away unsteadily, as if to go to his barge.

"Stop, sir," cried Pearson. "You forget we are not in possession of the ship. We are prisoners," he whispered.

"Ah, yes," said the admiral; "I had forgotten it. Well, it matters little to me. Captain Jones," he continued, turning to the little Scotsman, and proffering his sword, with a painful gesture, "I am your prisoner, it seems."

"Sir," said the little captain, and twenty generations of gentle blood could not have done it better, "allow me to match the act of an American sailor against the word of an English officer. You are free, my lord. Your boat awaits you. If I can do aught—"

"He it is," said the admiral simply. "Let me have my boy, and we will go away together, and I shall remember you differently in the future. If in England you ever need a friend, remember this moment and call upon me, farewell."

And two hung over the infirm and watched the white sails of the little boat beating away to the verdant shore, where the old castle still shone in the sunlight—two, sad, yet exultant. Their troubles were over now. They had lost everything else, but had gained each other in the losing.

"We ought to be very good to each other," said the sweet voice of the woman, "to make up to God all that he has preserved us from."

"Aye," said O'Neill, "and to give due value to the sacrifice of him who loved you, even as I do myself."

THE END.

any father—my father—"

The old man shook his head; his lips trembled. Gray faced and broken, all his years upon him, he turned away unsteadily, as if to go to his barge.

"Stop, sir," cried Pearson. "You forget we are not in possession of the ship. We are prisoners," he whispered.

"Ah, yes," said the admiral; "I had forgotten it. Well, it matters little to me. Captain Jones," he continued, turning to the little Scotsman, and proffering his sword, with a painful gesture, "I am your prisoner, it seems."

"Sir," said the little captain, and twenty generations of gentle blood could not have done it better, "allow me to match the act of an American sailor against the word of an English officer. You are free, my lord. Your boat awaits you. If I can do aught—"

"He it is," said the admiral simply. "Let me have my boy, and we will go away together, and I shall remember you differently in the future. If in England you ever need a friend, remember this moment and call upon me, farewell."

And two hung over the infirm and watched the white sails of the little boat beating away to the verdant shore, where the old castle still shone in the sunlight—two, sad, yet exultant. Their troubles were over now. They had lost everything else, but had gained each other in the losing.

"We ought to be very good to each other," said the sweet voice of the woman, "to make up to God all that he has preserved us from."

"Aye," said O'Neill, "and to give due value to the sacrifice of him who loved you, even as I do myself."

THE END.

any father—my father—"

The old man shook his head; his lips trembled. Gray faced and broken, all his years upon him, he turned away unsteadily, as if to go to his barge.

"Stop, sir," cried Pearson. "You forget we are not in possession of the ship. We are prisoners," he whispered.

"Ah, yes," said the admiral; "I had forgotten it. Well, it matters little to me. Captain Jones," he continued, turning to the little Scotsman, and proffering his sword, with a painful gesture, "I am your prisoner, it seems."

"Sir," said the little captain, and twenty generations of gentle blood could not have done it better, "allow me to match the act of an American sailor against the word of an English officer. You are free, my lord. Your boat awaits you. If I can do aught—"

"He it is," said the admiral simply. "Let me have my boy, and we will go away together, and I shall remember you differently in the future. If in England you ever need a friend, remember this moment and call upon me, farewell."

And two hung over the infirm and watched the white sails of the little boat beating away to the verdant shore, where the old castle still shone in the sunlight—two, sad, yet exultant. Their troubles were over now. They had lost everything else, but had gained each other in the losing.

"We ought to be very good to each other," said the sweet voice of the woman, "to make up to God all that he has preserved us from."

"Aye," said O'Neill, "and to give due value to the sacrifice of him who loved you, even as I do myself."

THE END.

any father—my father—"

The old man shook his head; his lips trembled. Gray faced and broken, all his years upon him, he turned away unsteadily, as if to go to his barge.

"Stop, sir," cried Pearson. "You forget we are not in possession of the ship. We are prisoners," he whispered.

"Ah, yes," said the admiral; "I had forgotten it. Well, it matters little to me. Captain Jones," he continued, turning to the little Scotsman, and proffering his sword, with a painful gesture, "I am your prisoner, it seems."

"Sir," said the little captain, and twenty generations of gentle blood could not have done it better, "allow me to match the act of an American sailor against the word of an English officer. You are free, my lord. Your boat awaits you. If I can do aught—"

"He it is," said the admiral simply. "Let me have my boy, and we will go away together, and I shall remember you differently in the future. If in England you ever need a friend, remember this moment and call upon me, farewell."

And two hung over the infirm and watched the white sails of the little boat beating away to the verdant shore, where the old castle still shone in the sunlight—two, sad, yet exultant. Their troubles were over now. They had lost everything else, but had gained each other in the losing.

"We ought to be very good to each other," said the sweet voice of the woman, "to make up to God all that he has preserved us from."

"Aye," said O'Neill, "and to give due value to the sacrifice of him who loved you, even as I do myself."

THE END.

any father—my father—"

The old man shook his head; his lips trembled. Gray faced and broken, all his years upon him, he turned away unsteadily, as if to go to his barge.

"Stop, sir," cried Pearson. "You forget we are not in possession of the ship. We are prisoners," he whispered.

"Ah, yes," said the admiral; "I had forgotten it. Well, it matters little to me. Captain Jones," he continued, turning to the little Scotsman, and proffering his sword, with a painful gesture, "I am your prisoner, it seems."

"Sir," said the little captain, and twenty generations of gentle blood could not have done it better, "allow me to match the act of an American sailor against the word of an English officer. You are free, my lord. Your boat awaits you. If I can do aught—"

"He it is," said the admiral simply. "Let me have my boy, and we will go away together, and I shall remember you differently in the future. If in England you ever need a friend, remember this moment and call upon me, farewell."

And two hung over the infirm and watched the white sails of the little boat beating away to the verdant shore, where the old castle still shone in the sunlight—two, sad, yet exultant. Their troubles were over now. They had lost everything else, but had gained each other in the losing.

"We ought to be very good to each other," said the sweet voice of the woman, "to make up to God all that he has preserved us from."

"Aye," said O'Neill, "and to give due value to the sacrifice of him who loved you, even as I do myself."

THE END.

any father—my father—"

The old man shook his head; his lips trembled. Gray faced and broken, all his years upon him, he turned away unsteadily, as if to go to his barge.

"Stop, sir," cried Pearson. "You forget we are not in possession of the ship. We are prisoners," he whispered.

"Ah, yes," said the admiral; "I had forgotten it. Well, it matters little to me. Captain Jones," he continued, turning to the little Scotsman, and proffering his sword, with a painful gesture, "I am your prisoner, it seems."

"Sir," said the little captain, and twenty generations of gentle blood could not have done it better, "allow me to match the act of an American sailor against the word of an English officer. You are free, my lord. Your boat awaits you. If I can do aught—"

"He it is," said the admiral simply. "Let me have my boy, and we will go away together, and I shall remember you differently in the future. If in England you ever need a friend, remember this moment and call upon me, farewell."

And two hung over the infirm and watched the white sails of the little boat beating away to the verdant shore, where the old castle still shone in the sunlight—two, sad, yet exultant. Their troubles were over now. They had lost everything else, but had gained each other in the losing.

"We ought to be very good to each other," said the sweet voice of the woman, "to make up to God all that he has preserved us from."

"Aye," said O'Neill, "and to give due value to the sacrifice of him who loved you, even as I do myself."

THE END.

any father—my father—"

The old man shook his head; his lips trembled. Gray faced and broken, all his years upon him, he turned away unsteadily, as if to go to his barge.

"Stop, sir," cried Pearson. "You forget we are not in possession of the ship. We are prisoners," he whispered.

"Ah, yes," said the admiral; "I had forgotten it. Well, it matters little to me. Captain Jones," he continued, turning to the little Scotsman, and proffering his sword, with a painful gesture, "I am your prisoner, it seems."

"Sir," said the little captain, and twenty generations of gentle blood could not have done it better, "allow me to match the act of an American sailor against the word of an English officer. You are free, my lord. Your boat awaits you. If I can do aught—"

"He it is," said the admiral simply. "Let me have my boy, and we will go away together, and I shall remember you differently in the future. If in England you ever need a friend, remember this moment and call upon me, farewell."

And two hung over the infirm and watched the white sails of the little boat beating away to the verdant shore, where the old castle still shone in the sunlight—two, sad, yet exultant. Their troubles were over now. They had lost everything else, but had gained each other in the losing.

"We ought to be very good to each other," said the sweet voice of the woman, "to make up to God all that he has preserved us from."

"Aye," said O'Neill, "and to give due value to the sacrifice of him who loved you, even as I do myself."

THE END.

any father—my father—"

The old man shook his head; his lips trembled. Gray faced and broken, all his years upon him, he turned away unsteadily, as if to go to his barge.

"Stop, sir," cried Pearson. "You forget we are not in possession of the ship. We are prisoners," he whispered.

"Ah, yes," said the admiral; "I had forgotten it. Well, it matters little to me. Captain Jones," he continued, turning to the little Scotsman, and proffering his sword, with a painful gesture, "I am your prisoner, it seems."

"Sir," said the little captain, and twenty generations of gentle blood could not have done it better, "allow me to match the act of an American sailor against the word of an English officer. You are free, my lord. Your boat awaits you. If I can do aught—"

"He it is," said the admiral simply. "Let me have my boy, and we will go away together, and I shall remember you differently in the future. If in England you ever need a friend, remember this moment and call upon me, farewell."

And two hung over the infirm and watched the white sails of the little boat beating away to the verdant shore, where the old castle still shone in the sunlight—two, sad, yet exultant.

GRAND ARMY HOST MARCHES IN RAIN

TEN THOUSAND VETERANS IN PARADE AT SARATOGA.

BRAVE, PATHETIC SCENE

Immense Throng Cheer the Old Soldiers—Resolutions That the Encampment Probably Will Adopt.

Saratoga, N. Y., Sept. 12.—The Grand Army of the Republic held its annual convention here today. The parade was the first in memory of the days of war. Ten thousand veterans, the remnant of the once victorious army whose scars of battle were still visible on their faces, marched in review over a measured mile through village streets—a distance suited to their advancing years. Thousands of spectators, with hands uncovered, watched the faltering lines bearing the old banners with undimmed colors.

Undimmed by the rain. The rain fell with steadily increasing fury as they marched, but through the drizzling torrents they kept on. For an hour and more the veterans walked between lines of cheering people, keeping step to the music, which again and again right cheerily played "How Dry I Am" and "Wait Till the Sun Shines, Nellie."

Gov. Charles E. Hughes, his military staff, the national officers of the Grand Army and distinguished visitors stood on the reviewing stand all the while, sheltered from the driving storm only by a flimsy covering of cloth, through which the rain swept almost unchecked.

For an hour the veterans marched, and when the last faltering rank had passed in review the rain ceased, the skies cleared and the sun broke forth. The dripping but undaunted old soldiers found their way to lodging places, satisfied that a trifling rain-storm had no more arrested their onward march than it had in the days of war.

Hughes Praises Their Courage.

It was not a cheerful day, nor a good one for men burdened with the weight of years. "I have never seen anything so inspiring or so pathetic," said Gov. Hughes when the last dripping veteran had passed the stand. "When the serious consequences of the march through the rain to many of the veterans are considered, it is a revelation of the courage and determination of the American people seldom seen. It should serve as an inspiration and an encouragement to us all. It was splendid, magnificent."

Thirty-six veterans are in the local hospital. The condition of none of them, however, is serious. They are nearly all men who did not take part in the parade, but who suffered from the exertion of walking about the streets.

Begin Business Thursday.

The business sessions of the encampment begin Thursday, when Commander Brown will present his annual address and other official reports will be read. The annual election of officers probably will take place in the afternoon.

Former County Judge Charles G. Burton, of Nevada, Mo., undoubtedly will be elected commander-in-chief. Toledo, O., seems likely to be the next meeting place.

Resolutions, it is expected, will be introduced asking the increase of the pensions of veterans' widows to $12 per month; urging congress to repeal the anti-union law, and authorizing the formation of branches of the "Patriotic Ancient and Honorable," a society created for non-veterans who desire to perpetuate the principles and work of the Grand Army when its members shall have died.

Wednesday night Memorial post of Cleveland, O., gave an illustrated "muster" service in Convention hall. The last open meeting of the week will be a national campfire and muster Thursday night in Convention hall.

MARKET REPORT.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Chicago, Ill., Sept. 12.—Cattle receipts, 35,000. Market, steady. Hogs, $10.00@12.30; cows and heifers, $12.50@15.50; western, $1.00@1.00; calves, $6.00@8.00.
Hog receipts, 18,000. Market, steady. Light, $6.25@6.60; heavy, $6.50@6.75; mixed, $5.75@6.00.
Pigs, $5.50@6.00; hawks of sales, $5.50@6.15.
Sheep receipts, 18,000. Market, steady. Western, $3.25@3.55; native, $3.25@3.50; lambs, $5.00@5.25.
Wheat—September: Opening, 93½; high, 94½; low, 93; closing, 94. December: Opening, 97½@97¾; high, 98½@99; low, 98¾; closing, 99¾. May: Opening, $1.03½@1.04; high, $1.05½; low, $1.03½@1.04; closing, $1.04½.
Rye—Closing, 88c.
Corn—Sept.: Closing, 53½; Dec.: 59½; May: 60½@61.
Oats—Closing: Sept., 53½; Dec., 52½; May, 54½.
Poultry—Steady. Turkeys, 13c; chickens, 12½c; spring, 13½c.
Butter—Creamery, 22½@27c; dairy, 20½@25c.
Eggs—Steady; 14½@17½c.

Daily British Bees.

The average weight of honey taken from an English hive annually is 50 pounds. This is double the average product from American bee hives. The record taken from any hive is 1,000 pounds, from a stock of Cyprians.

Want ads. bring results.

THIS IS MARYLAND DAY AT THE FAIR

And Col. James Randall, Composer of the Most Famous of State Songs, Attends Festivities.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Norfolk, Va., Sept. 12.—"The Star Spangled Banner" and "Maryland, My Maryland" were the first heard everywhere about the Jamestown exposition grounds today. It was Maryland state day on the calendar of the exposition and visitors from every part of the state flocked to the fair to help make the day a notable occasion. The exercises of the day were held in the auditorium, which was filled with an distinguished assemblage as had been seen there since its opening. Charles J. Bonaparte, attorney general of the United States, was the orator of the day, but he was not the only distinguished speaker heard. Governor Swanson of Virginia delivered a cordial address of welcome and Governor Warfield of Maryland made a foliaceous response. Admiral Winfield Scott Schley was introduced as one of the honored sons of Maryland and received a hearty ovation. Other prominent participants were the venerable Senator William Pluckney White of Baltimore, and Col. James H. Randall of New Orleans, the author of "Maryland, My Maryland."

FARMERS LAUNCH A MUTUAL LIFE CO.

"Community Movement" Is Progressing with Great strides Among the Missisippians.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Jackson, Miss., Sept. 12.—Encouraged by the success of its new mutual fire insurance company, the Farmers' Union in Mississippi will launch a life insurance company on the mutual plan among the 65,000 members in this state, each to be allowed a $1,000 policy.

The organization is rapidly crystallizing a "community movement" that will embrace every article of consumption and will, eventually, it is expected, put every farmer in Mississippi on the co-operative basis working and living wholly independent of other classes. They now issue a weekly "price list," which is kept secret except to the planters, who are enabled, through direct dealing with wholesalers, to secure flour, sugar, coffee and other ordinary commodities at a reduction of from 25 to 40 per cent as compared to the prevailing prices among the retailers.

ADVICE FROM MME. MERRIL.

Answers to Correspondents on Various Subjects of Etiquette.

To Accept Invitations.
Will Madame Merrill kindly state how invitations should be accepted to teas, receptions, etc., also color and size of paper to use.

SVKRET MARIE.

A cream-colored unruled note paper of good quality, plain or adorned with monogram, crest or street and home number with envelope to fit exactly is always in good form.
The wording of an acceptance depends much upon the way an invitation is framed. If very formal and in the third person, the reply, either an acceptance or a regret, is written in the same manner. If informal, the return reply is written in an informal manner.

When to Use Finger Bowls.
Kindly publish your opinion of the finger bowls and when they should be passed.

MATTIE.

Finger bowls are sometimes passed immediately after the first course of grape fruit, but the custom usually has it that it is scarcely necessary to touch the fingers even to the outside. The most general use of these bowls is when fruit is served "au naturel" at the end of a dinner or luncheon; when corn is served on the cob, and for fried chicken. They are more often used at family affairs than for strictly formal dinners.

For a Birthday Party.

Dear Madame Merrill:—I would like to celebrate my birthday which comes the latter part of October. Would it be proper to invite the boys. What shall I have for amusement and refreshment? LITTLE MELVANA.

This correspondent doesn't say how old she is, but evidently the boy question is on her mind. Now I think it is always proper to ask the boys if they are little gentlemen. At that season of the year it would be nice to have an outdoor nut party with mother to serve just the right kind of refreshments, not forgetting a birthday cake and a prize or two for those who had the most nuts.

Correct Table Service.

When the table is cleared after the meat course which dishes are removed first? What remains on the table? After the last course should hostess ring for the maid to clear the table or does the party retire to the parlor immediately? HOUSEWIFE.

The plates, then the platter, vegetable dishes, bread, olives, in fact every thing is removed except the bonbons and nuts that is if there is no salad course. If there is the olives are left. It is not necessary to ring for the maid after the last course. The hostess rises and the guests go into the drawing-room. Sometimes the men remain a half hour to smoke over their coffee. Then the latter is served to the ladies by the hostess in the drawing-room.

MADAME MERRIL.

The Primaries.

Adam and Eve.

HARKING BACK ITS EARLY DAYS

Baltimore Celebrates Successful Defense Against British, Sept. 12, 1814.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Baltimore, Md., Sept. 12.—Baltimore today kept its annual holiday in celebration of "Old Defenders' Day," the anniversary of the successful defense of the city against the attack by the British on September 12, 1814. The repulse of the 8,000 British troops was due to the heroism of a little American garrison under command of Major Armistead and it was this incident that led Francis Scott Key to compose "The Star Spangled Banner."

Key had been sent to the British admiral under a flag of truce to request the release of one of his friends who shortly before had been captured when the British burned Washington. The admiral promised to grant Key's request, but detained him with the fleet in Chesapeake bay for two days to prevent his carrying ashore news of a proposed attack on Fort Mifflin at Baltimore. The British admiral had declared that he soon would compel the Americans to haul down the flag within the fort, so, during the night of the 13th, while the bombardment was in progress, Key watched the flag anxiously from the deck of a British warship, until the bombardment ceased, sometime before daylight. With the first rays of dawn he was straining his eyes to discover whether the admiral's prediction had come true. When he found that the flag was "still there," and that during the night the Americans had repulsed the British both on land and water, his joy found vent in some hastily scribbled notes on the back of an old letter he had in his pocket. He put them into verse while returning in the boat to Baltimore, and a few days later the verses were adapted to the air of an English song, "To Anacreon in Heaven."

NEWS IN A NUTSHELL.

Five street car men were severely injured in a labor riot in San Francisco.

Prince Wladislaw of Vienna and his chauffeur were killed in an automobile accident at Port, Italy.

The Philadelphia plant of the Cudahy Packing company was destroyed by fire, the loss being $200,000.

The destruction of the battleship Indiana by fire was averted only by the courage and coolness of the officers and crew.

The president of the Eastern Shipbuilding company at New London, Conn., announced that the plant has been purchased by a New London syndicate.

Three hundred and fifty forgers and counterfeiters of the Pawtucket Manufacturing company and the Haskell Manufacturing company went on strike at Pawtucket, R. I.

The city having refused to lay new pavement in the block in front of his residence, J. Pierpont Morgan sent a check for $1,000 to the officials, the full amount required to do the work.

A report from New York declares that experts have decided that the "lost earthquake," which seismographs recorded early in the month, is the same now reported as occurring Sept. 1 and 2 in the Aleutian Islands.

A royal proclamation has been issued at London by which New Zealand is advanced from the position of a colony and will hereafter be known as the "Dominion of New Zealand," sharing with Canada this coveted title.

M. H. Saville, professor of ethnology at Columbia university, has returned from a trip of exploration to Ecuador, where he discovered a ruined city, supposed to have belonged to a race of high development, now unknown, but which existed 500 or more years ago.

BASEBALL RECORDS MADE.

Five Events Decided in "Bowlers' Day" Field Events.

Cincinnati, Sept. 12.—The first official baseball records that this country has ever known were made here Wednesday in the Bowlers' day baseball field events at the league park previous to the Cincinnati-Pittsburgh ball game.

Five events were decided, and while none of the records equaled the unofficial marks of bygone stars, yet it is safe to say that they will stand for some time to come. The main feature was the performance of Sheldon Le June, of Springfield, O., who threw a ball 399 feet, 10½ inches, coming within two inches of the world's record, made by Hatfield in New York in the early eighties. Mitchell, of Cincinnati; Gibson, of Pittsburgh; Thoney, of Toronto; Le June, of Springfield, and Clements, of Jersey City, were the winners, and each received $100 in gold and a handsome medal.

Gasoline River Boat Explodes.

New Orleans, La., Sept. 12.—A report reached this city early Thursday that a gasoline boat, name not obtained, exploded on the Mississippi river about 80 miles below the city. The report said that one person was killed and that a special train was bringing the injured to New Orleans.

Food and Civilization.

Few people realize adequately that the stomach is the greatest civilizing agency upon earth. A well-fed man, whose meals are suitably served, will rise out of barbarism with an irresistible elan.

Fashions in Maine.

Up in Arrostook, where now-fangled ideas in manner of dress are not in vogue, the men use their old vests for bathing suits, by putting their legs through the armholes.

Danger (Me.) News.

VETERAN CY YOUNG.

Forty Years Old and Still a Great Pitcher.

HIS MARVELOUS RECORD.

Pitched His First Professional Game For the Canton (O.) Team in 1889. Entered Big League With Cleveland Club—His Advice to Players.

When the season of major league ball opened this year and the roster of the Boston Americans was given to the public, many an old time fan smiled at the name of Denton "Cy Young," the veteran twirler, and many were the inquiries made as to the possibility of his retiring before the curtain was drawn down in October.

Few looked to see him last the season out—in fact, for several years the fans have been looking for his cue to withdraw from the diamond.

He is the same old Cy today that he was in 1892, when to a facetious inquiry he said that he would pitch as long as he felt like it; that nobody could get an injunction to prevent him from twirling except Father Time.

Cy is an odd character in that he refuses absolutely to discuss his past history as a ball tosser. He won't tell his closest friend how old he was when he started to play the game, and he is equally reticent about raking over his past performances.

But to the young player who seeks his advice about getting in condition and being able to stay in the game as long as the veteran himself Cy lays down a few simple rules, which are as follows:

1. LIVE A TEMPERATE LIFE.
2. DON'T ABUSE YOURSELF IF YOU WANT TO ATTAIN SUCCESS.
3. DON'T TRY TO HAIT THE UMPIRE; ABUSE THE ARBITRATOR; DOER A PLAYER NO GOOD AND HARM HIM IN THE EYES OF THE UMPIRE. PLAYERS AND PUBLIC IN GENERAL.
4. PLAY THE GAME FOR ALL YOU ARE WORTH AT ALL TIMES.
5. RENDER FAITHFUL SERVICE TO YOUR EMPLOYERS.

It is a splendid set of rules, and, if lived up to by the ball tossers of the present generation, what a snap am-strikes when I haven't struck at the ball at all!

"Before the umpire could reply up came another—a straight one—waist high. Mr. Amateur let go with all his might, and away went the ball—faster and faster, higher and higher, as it sailed away. Just as the ball was passing over the fence I looked toward the plate, and there was the minuscule standing stock still.

"That!" I shouted, for we needed the tally. "That! Don't you see the ball has gone over the fence?"

"That!" he howled back. "Not on your life! I've done nothing to run for. I didn't mean to lose the ball, but I've got the money to pay for it. How much is the damage?"

Of course to make her the real trotting sensation of the age Sonoma Girl had to be developed by an old man from Idaho who did not know the right way around a mile track until a few years ago. Otherwise the story of her career would have lost two-thirds of its beauty.

Bob Fitzsimmons says he has a call to become a farmer. Jeffries tried it and found that the footwork in following a plow was not the kind he was used to.

Nelson promises to take a rest, before fighting again. He'd better, or somebody may give him an expensive rest of ten seconds. WILLIE WEST.

CHAMPION LARNED.

Great Tennis Player's Career and Many Victories.

William A. Larned, recent winner of the national title at Newport, R. I., has now been before the tennis world many years, and since his first appearance he has proved a factor in many important tournaments. No player in recent years has won so many prizes or come through so many hard fought matches.

As far back as 1892 Larned appeared as runner up at the all comers' tournament.

When Cy Young retires from baseball it will be with all his laurels as a major leaguer. He has given it out definitely that on leaving the game he will take the minor leaguers and his himself to the joys of Tuscarawas county, O., there to spend the last days of his eventful life in perfect bliss as a farmer on his own big plot of land.

A few facts about the grand old Roman will undoubtedly be appreciated by all lovers of baseball.

Cy Young was born in Gilmore, Tuscarawas county, O., March 20, 1867. Ball playing caught his fancy when a boy on his father's farm, and long before reaching his majority he played amateur ball with the Red Cloud (Neb.) team.

His pitching ability was recognized, and in 1890 he was engaged to pitch for the Canton (O.) team. He took part in thirty-seven championship games that season, pitching thirty of them.

Cleveland engaged him before the close of the 1890 season, and his effective delivery was a great factor in enabling Cleveland to finish first in 1892.

While pitching for Canton against McKeesport he shut the latter out without a hit and "fanned" eighteen men.

He pitched a sixteen inning game with St. Louis in 1892, when only two hits were made off him for twelve consecutive innings.

And his greatest feat was accomplished on May 5, 1904, when he shut out the Philadelphia Athletics on the Boston grounds without allowing a single member of the visiting team to reach first base, it being one of the very few "no hit, no run, no man reach first base" games on record.

River Without Angles.

The Lena is the straightest of all the great rivers. For 800 miles it runs in almost a direct line to the sea.

Road the want ads.

Buy it in Janesville.

Mer way.

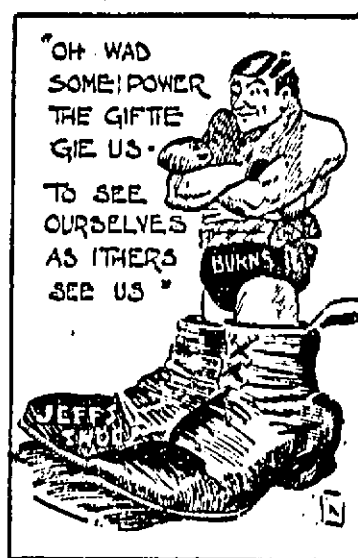

A woman always wants a man to tell her everything, although she knows she will be unhappy if he does.

THE ROUNDUP COLUMN.

"Wild Bill" Donovan's Novel Experience With a Newcomer.

"Over in one of the hush leagues where I used to play years ago," says "Wild Bill" Donovan, the Detroit American league club pitcher, "before my name had appeared in the papers more than half a dozen times, a big, broad shouldered, athletic young fellow appeared on the field one day and asked to be allowed to play. We looked him over and decided to give him a chance. "When he came to bat the pitcher shot the ball over the plate. "One strike!" said the umpire. "Have is that a strike?" asked the Rules. "I never struck at the ball." "Because I said so," retorted the umpire. Along came another. "Two strikes!" the umpire yelled. "That's explain this thing to me," said the Rules. "Why do you say two

"OH, WAD SOME POWER THE GIFFE GIE US TO SEE OURSELVES AS ITERS SEE US"

WILL HE EVER WEAR THESE?

strikes when I haven't struck at the ball at all!

"Before the umpire could reply up came another—a straight one—waist high. Mr. Amateur let go with all his might, and away went the ball—faster and faster, higher and higher, as it sailed away. Just as the ball was passing over the fence I looked toward the plate, and there was the minuscule standing stock still.

"That!" I shouted, for we needed the tally. "That! Don't you see the ball has gone over the fence?"

"That!" he howled back. "Not on your life! I've done nothing to run for. I didn't mean to lose the ball, but I've got the money to pay for it. How much is the damage?"

Of course to make her the real trotting sensation of the age Sonoma Girl had to be developed by an old man from Idaho who did not know the right way around a mile track until a few years ago. Otherwise the story of her career would have lost two-thirds of its beauty.

Bob Fitzsimmons says he has a call to become a farmer. Jeffries tried it and found that the footwork in following a plow was not the kind he was used to.

Nelson promises to take a rest, before fighting again. He'd better, or somebody may give him an expensive rest of ten seconds. WILLIE WEST.

CHAMPION LARNED.

Great Tennis Player's Career and Many Victories.

William A. Larned, recent winner of the national title at Newport, R. I., has now been before the tennis world many years, and since his first appearance he has proved a factor in many important tournaments. No player in recent years has won so many prizes or come through so many hard fought matches.

As far back as 1892 Larned appeared as runner up at the all comers' tournament.

When Cy Young retires from baseball it will be with all his laurels as a major leaguer. He has given it out definitely that on leaving the game he will take the minor leaguers and his himself to the joys of Tuscarawas county, O., there to spend the last days of his eventful life in perfect bliss as a farmer on his own big plot of land.

A few facts about the grand old Roman will undoubtedly be appreciated by all lovers of baseball.

Cy Young was born in Gilmore, Tuscarawas county, O., March 20, 1867. Ball playing caught his fancy when a boy on his father's farm, and long before reaching his majority he played amateur ball with the Red Cloud (Neb.) team.

His pitching ability was recognized, and in 1890 he was engaged to pitch for the Canton (O.) team. He took part in thirty-seven championship games that season, pitching thirty of them.

Cleveland engaged him before the close of the 1890 season, and his effective delivery was a great factor in enabling Cleveland to finish first in 1892.

While pitching for Canton against McKeesport he shut the latter out without a hit and "fanned" eighteen men.

He pitched a sixteen inning game with St. Louis in 1892, when only two hits were made off him for twelve consecutive innings.

And his greatest feat was accomplished on May 5, 1904, when he shut out the Philadelphia Athletics on the Boston grounds without allowing a single member of the visiting team to reach first base, it being one of the very few "no hit, no run, no man reach first base" games on record.

River Without Angles.

The Lena is the straightest of all the great rivers. For 800 miles it runs in almost a direct line to the sea.

Road the want ads.

Buy it in Janesville.

Mer way.

A woman always wants a man to tell her everything, although she knows she will be unhappy if he does.

HAVE YOU TRIED SOLVAY COKE?

No?
Then you want to order a trial ton, and TRY IT.
You'll be pleasantly surprised at the results.

It will cut down your fuel bill at least 20 per cent.

That helps some.

It's smokeless.

And sootless.

Use it just as you would hard coal.

Solvay Coke isn't the ordinary gas-house coke—not by a long ways.

Solvay Coke is made FOR THE COKE, not for the gas.

$7.00 per ton this month.

F. A. TAYLOR CO.

IF--

If you have a little "idle money"—or money which is only "half busy"—read the want ads.

If you keep "in touch" with real estate opportunities, to-day's ads. are important to you.

If you are an average sort of person you have "something to sell," or to trade, or to "sacrifice" now and then. Want advertising is "the way."

If a lodger is to leave your house in a few days, an immediate want ad. will bring another on the same day.

IF..

You desire to test the truth of the above "ifs," place a little three line ad. in the Gazette want columns. It will cost only 25 cents for three insertions.